Lakeview Reserve Homeowners v. Maronda Homes, Inc.

Whether a homeowners association has a claim for breach of the common law implied warranties of fitness and merchantability, also referred to as a warranty of habitability, against a builder/developer for defects in the roadways, drainage systems, retention ponds and underground pipes in a residential subdivision.

Lakeview Reserve Homeowners v. Maronda Homes, Inc. - Chronology

Oct. 2010 – 5th DCA says yes, reversing summary judgment by trial court. Certifies conflict with 4th DCA.

April 2011 – Fla. Supreme Court accepts jurisdiction.

Oct. 2011 – Fla. Supreme Court sets oral argument.

July 2012 – Legislature enacts s. 553.835 Fla. Statutes – abrogating ruling by 5th DCA.

July 2013 – Fla. Supreme Court finds new law unconstitutional as retroactively applied and holds that the implied warranties of fitness and merchantability apply to the improvements that provide essential services.

Nov. 2013 – Fla. Supreme Court corrects opinion.

Statute of Limitations

Section 95.11(3)(c), Florida Statutes, sets forth the statute of limitations applicable to construction defect claims.

- Scope
- Specification of Time Statute of Limitation and Repose Commences
- Tolling for Latent Defects
- Repose (more on that in a minute)

Statute of Repose

Section 95.11(3)(c), Florida Statutes, also addresses statute of repose applicable to construction defect claims.

Tolling Until Turnover?

Sabal Chase Homeowners Association v. Walt Disney World Co., 726 So.2d 796 (Fla. 3d DCA 1999)

However, a statute of limitations is not the same as a statute of repose. The clearly stated purpose of Section 718.124 is to lengthen the statute of "limitations" period, see Regency Wood Condo., Inc. v. Bessent, Hammack & Ruckman, Inc., 405 So. 2d 440 (Fla. 1st DCA 1981), not the "repose" period. The appellant's argument to the contrary ignores fundamental distinctions between ordinary statutes of limitations and statutes of repose.

In sum, we find no support for the appellants argument that a statute of repose, which establishes a reasonable time period to bring an action, can be artificially extended by a statute of limitations that has a tolling effect.

When is Contract Complete?

Cypress Fairway Condo v. Bergeron Construction Co. Inc., 164 So.3d 706 (Fla. 5th DCA 2015)

Statute of Limitations / Repose commences when the contract is completed not when the construction is completed.

Completion of the contract refers to performance by both owner and contractor, namely payment is an element of completion.

When is Contract Complete? - Part Two

Busch v. Lennar Homes, LLC 219 So. 3d 93 (Fla. 5th DCA 2017)

Did the 2017 go beyond the issue of payment?

When are “all contracted services” completed?

Senate Bill 536 (2018)

Where a certificate of occupancy has been issued for permitted work, repair and/or corrective work is not considered in analysis of what constitutes “all contracted services.”
